

Program Brief

Clinical Infection and Public Health Forum on Defense that cannot be ignored – Updates on Mycobacterium

Organised by

Infectious Disease Control Training Centre, Hospital Authority/ Infection Control Branch, Centre for Health Protection

Objectives:

- To update the information on Mycobacterium infection which include Mycobacterium tuberculosis, Atypical Mycobacterium infection, and the latest situation on Leprosy (Hansen Disease)

Target participants:

- All staff related to Infection Control or Infectious Disease Management
- All medical, nursing, and allied health staff interested in the control of Mycobacterium and Leprosy

Date:

14 December 2016 (16:30 – 18:30)

Venue:

Lecture Theatre, G/F, Centre for Health Protection, 147C Argyle Street, Kowloon.

Speakers:

Dr CC LEUNG

Consultant, Chest Physician i/c

Public Health Services Branch

Centre for Health Protection

Dr TC WU

Consultant, Division of Infectious Diseases Department of Medicine

Queen Elizabeth Hospital

Hospital Authority

Dr Stanley HO
Senior Medical Officer
Social Hygiene Service,
Department of Health

Moderators:

Dr Andrew TY WONG
Head, Infection Control Branch, Centre for Health Protection &
Consultant in-charge, Infectious Disease Control Training Centre,
Hospital Authority

Program Rundown

Time	Topic	Speaker
16:15 – 16:30	Registration	-
16:30 – 16:40	Introduction	Dr. TY WONG
16:40 – 17:10	Mycobacterium tuberculosis revisited - challenges in 21st century	Dr. CC LEUNG
17:10 – 17:40	Atypical Mycobacterium - a new front in the battle	Dr. TC WU
17:40 – 18:10	Leprosy (Hansen Disease) - what's up today	Dr. Stanley HO
18:10 – 18:30	Q&A session	