

Bio-sketch of DR. WU KA LUN, ALAN

Dr. Wu was born in Hong Kong and finished his medical training in the Faculty of Medicine, Chinese University of Hong Kong, graduating with honors in 1996. He then completed his fellowship training in medicine (Infectious Diseases) in 2004 and subsequently in pathology (Clinical Microbiology and Infection) in 2010. Dr. Wu is a fellow of the Royal College of Pathologists (UK) and Hong Kong College of Pathologists. He has been appointed as an honorary assistant Professor at the Department of Microbiology, University of Hong Kong, since 2005. He is currently working as a Consultant Microbiologist in the Department of Clinical Pathology, Pamela Youde Nethersole Eastern Hospital, and is also the Hospital Infection Control Officer (HICO) of Ruttonjee & Tang Shiu Kin Hospitals. Dr. Wu is an active board member of the Hospital Authority Task force in Clinical Management (TFCM) and Task Force in Infection Control (TFIC), and he has served as an associate editor for the IMPACT guidelines editorial board (5th edition, in preparation). He has published numerous articles in peer-reviewed journals and has written two book chapters on infection topics. His main research interests include emerging infections as well as control of hospital infections.