

Mitchell J. Schwaber

Biographical Sketch

Dr. Schwaber is the director of the National Center for Infection Control of the Israel Ministry of Health in Tel Aviv. A native of Boston, USA, he pursued his medical studies at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York, medical residency at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston and Hadassah University Hospital in Jerusalem, Israel, and training in infectious diseases and epidemiology at Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center and the Harvard School of Public Health in Boston. In addition to his duties with the Ministry, he practices clinical medicine and infectious diseases at Tel Aviv Sourasky Medical Center and Maccabi Healthcare Services. He lives in Modiin, Israel, with his wife and 3 daughters.